Some Reasons Why The National, State, District and County Republican Candidates Should Be Elected Next Tuesday

Mr. Charles E. Hughes in his speech at Philadelphia stated his international policy as follows:

"We do not propose to tolerate any improper interference with American commerce, with American mails, or with legitimate commercial intercourse. We do not propose to tolerate any American who is celebrating only American rights shall be put on any blacklist by any foreign nation. We propose to protect American lives, American property and American trade, according to our just rights under international law."

And I say in Philadelphia what I said in Milwaukee, that we have no intrigues, no unstated purposes, no secret understandings. We stand for the interests of the United States, and its interests alone, four-square to the world, first, last and all the time."

The election of a Republican Senate and House of Representatives is of vital importance to every American citizen who agrees with the foregoing policy and with the other policies of government administration held by Mr. Hughes and incorporated in the platform of the Republican party. Without a Republican Congress, Mr. Hughes as president would be unable to carry out his policies. This makes important the election of ex-governor Myron T. Herrick for United States Senator. Mr. Herrick's name is a household word in Ohio and no stronger or more able man for the U. S. Senate; no man better equipped by training, experience and natural strength of character and ability can be found in any State in the Union than Mr. Herrick.

Hon. Nelson E. Matthews the Republican candidate for re-election as Representative from this Fifth Congressional district has, during his first term in that office demonstrated his ability as a legislator and his fidelity to the interests of his constituency. He stands squarely for the very policies for which Mr. Hughes and the Republican party stand, "America first and efficient." He realizes that the overwhelming issues before the country are the protection of American industry at home and the maintenance of the dignity and prestige of the nation abroad and adequate protection of the lives and property of its citizens wherever in the course of legitimate travel and business they may go in the civilized world.

Mr. Matthews is a man of known integrity, of sterling character and tested ability, he deserves the support of every citizen in this congressional district.

The same conditions which obtain in regard to the national Republican ticket hold also as regards the Republican State and County tickets. Frank B. Willis as Governor of Ohio has steadfastly devoted his efforts to redeeming the Republican platform of 1914 and in spite of determined and persistent obstruction of the Cox political machine he has succeeded beyond the expectations of his most sanguine supporters during his first campaign. He has accomplished material economy and increased efficiency in the management of State affairs. The records show large savings in almost every department as compared with 1914 and at the same time a vastly increased volume of work more efficiently accomplished. In order that this work in the interests of all the citizens may be continued it is not only necessary that Governor Willis be re-elected but it is essential that his cabinet of State officers and the members of the General Assembly shall be men who will work in harmony with Mr. Willis along the lines of State government to which he and the Republican party of the State are pledged. John H. Arnold, candidate for re-election as Lieutenant Governor has proven his worth by the splendid record he has made during his first term in that office. Charles Q. Hildebrand the present Secretary of State also a candidate for re-election and deserving it, served as a representative in Congress from the 7th Ohio district from 1901 to 1905, he was a delegate to the National Republican Convention in Chicago and voted for the nomination of Charles E. Hughes and Charles W. Fairbanks. Attorney General Edward C. Turner, another candidate for re-election has made a record during the eighteen months of his administration that ought to secure the unanimous vote of the State for his re-election: He has reduced the running expenses of his department almost $5,000 per month or more than $85,000, in the first eighteen months and at the same time he accomplished a greatly increased volume of business. During the eighteen months ending June 30th, 1916, Mr. Turner collected and covered into the State Treasury the sum of $589,067.40 in sums ranging from $2 upward. This is the largest sum of money ever collected by the department during a similar period of time and would have been sufficient to have paid all the expenses of the department during that period.

State Treasurer Rudolph W. Archer (Continued on page 12)

Work well done should always be rewarded. Senate Bill No. 125 is the reason. C. C. Cass, of Ottawa, Republican candidate for re-election to the Senate from the 33rd district, should be returned to finish the great public service he has begun and for which he has a far-reaching vision. When Senator Cass went to the upper branch of the Ohio General Assembly he had a definite purpose. He promised himself and his constituents that he would do one big thing and do it well. Senate Bill No. 125 tells the story of how well he kept this pledge. No sooner did he take his seat than he was recognized as one of the leaders. He was made chairman of the committee on public highways and in two weeks Senate Bill No. 125 was introduced. Senator Cass ably defended it on the floor, soon it was passed and the biggest step to "Lift Ohio Out of the Mud" was taken.

The Putnam senator was born in the country and all his business associations have been such as to make him conversant with the needs of the farmer and the needs of his city brother. He studied their cases carefully. He looked into the dusty tomes of the state and found what laws already existed. He swept the cob webs away, he brought out and sorted them then bringing his knowledge of the needs of Ohio into

EVERETT E. SPRING

Candidate for County Commissioner from Dover Township.

E. E. Spring of Dover township is one of the Republican Candidates for County Commissioner. He is one of the foremost farmers of the county and his farm speaks in loudest praise of his business ability, thrift and good judgment.

Mr. Spring has spent his entire life in this county and is familiar with the county's needs as to roads, bridges, ditches and business management. As his farm management shows he is a man of splendid judgment. He is cautious, prudent and fearless in following his convictions.

He served as the assessor of real estate in his own township and so well was his work done in the most difficult position that the County Board of Equalization did not add to or take from his returns a single dollar. The records in the County Auditor's office show that his report stands unchallenged. This is only another testimonial of his honesty, good judgment, business ability and fearlessness in the discharge of a public duty.

If elected, those who know him best, believe that he will make the county a commissioner second to none. His friends, Republicans and Democrats alike, are asking you, Mr. Voter, to put a cross in front of his name on the official ballot on election day, believing, that by so doing, you have made a wise selection for this important office. QUERIES FOR THE EXPOSITOR

Some Pointed Questions For The Democratic Editor To Answer About Candidates, Political Jobs and His Own Consistency.

If Mr. Goll is elected Representative will he restore the $2000.00 salaries he held and which the Willis legislature abolished? Will he vote to put back on the payroll the little army of useless job seekers whose annual salaries amounted to $225,000.00, which the Willis legislature abolished? Will he vote to make $125,000.00 increase in salaries when the Willis legislature reduced?

Wherein is Fred Fowler better qualified to fill the Prosecuting Attorney's office than Chas. T. Stahl? A few years ago the editor of the Democratic Expositor had a great deal to say against Attorney Fowler's honesty and integrity. Did the editor mean what he said about Mr. Fowler? Has the changed his mind about the matter now since Mr. Fowler is on the Democratic ticket?

Why, is Mr. Prakes, Democratic candidate for County Commissioner now posing as a good roads enthusiast when he refused to sign the petition for a Main Market road?

If the editor of the Expositor were to employ someone to spend $100,000.00 of his money annually for two years in road building, would he select someone who had had no experience in road construction, or would he choose a man who had four years experience in successful building good roads? Castle and Weber are both honest. Castle has had the successful experience in road work. Weber has not, from a good business standpoint, which one should be elected?

W. S. Pomeroy has all the qualifications for Sheriff that George Geer possesses and in addition has had four years experience as a Deputy in the Sheriff's office. If you want an efficient officer would you select one with experience or one without experience?

"In spite of the law to restrict heads of the department and state employees from visiting other states on junkets at state expense, it cost over $2000.00 the first fiscal year under Willis' Democratic Expositor. During the last fiscal year under Cox these junkets cost the taxpayers of the state $18,000.00. The Willis legislature passed the law to restrict these junkets. Have you forgotten Cox's liquor license commission junket through Canada and the United States? Of the $2000 spent in the Willis administration, State Auditor Danahy voted $400 for allowance. Same difference, $2000 under Willis, $4000 under Cox.

Do you believe in giving an honest competent, young man a chance? If so, why are you opposing Allen Barber for Probate Judge? There is no question that Mr. Barber is qualified for the office. He is courteous, honest and faithful and his election would be a credit to the voters of the county.

"A reduction of the state tax levy would take away the appropriation for the maintenance of the school." Democratic Expositor. Gov Cox reduced the common school tax $2,000.00 annually. If Gov. Willis would reduce the state levy in this particular, it would only reduce the revenue for the support of the common schools $396,000.00 annually. If Gov. Willis takes away the support of the common schools by reducing the revenue $396,000.00, what did Gov. Cox do when he took away from the common schools $2,000,000.00 annually? Willis has cut out useless jobs and reduced extravagant salaries to make up all he takes from the school fund. The public schools now receive from the general revenue fund of the state nearly all the money the state contributes to their support, and a reduction of the levy means only taking this reduction from the general fund. The schools will receive their support as usual.

The editor of the Expositor is County Liquor License Commissioner and owes his appointment to that office to Gov. Cox. Are you one of the Cox appointees who has used the office to pile up expenses for the Willis administration? If not why did you put the Willis administration to the expense of appointing a referee in the transfer of a saloon license at Archbold? You now say that saloon keeping is alright. Was it Jim Pilliod of Toledo that wanted to control the saloon business of this county?

If Senator Pomeroy had recommended the editor of the Expositor as Postmaster of Wauseon, would he be now whooping it up for Pomeroy as he is for Cox, who made him Liquor License Commissioner of this county? Adv't.
